Pedroso explains how to spend the weekend after recent changes to its format. CNN's weekend Lockdown programming returns from its two-week vacation on Friday, and it's getting an overhaul. The new weekend Lockdown premieres Saturday at 7 a.m. ET. The format, which has been in the works for months, is less of an event and more of a vehicle to test out different concepts. "We're really excited to try some different formats and see what we come up with," said CNN senior executive producer Jason Goldwein. The weekend Lockdown episodes will be 30 minutes long. "Previously, [the Lockdowns] were usually two hours but this is meant to be a format to test things out," said Goldwein. The first test will be a version of "Political Capital," a political discussion show hosted by Fareed Zakaria that gives guests a chance to give their opinions on a variety of topics and then have a two-hour discussion. On the heels of the game's most recent expansion comes an announcement of the new card game, Skylanders Giants. The game will be available exclusively for the Nintendo 3DS starting

EZ Outliner is a small program with a big name. On the one hand, the size of the program is limited, so you won't find much more than an overview of your lists. On the other hand, it is packed with features that make it a useful tool for anyone who wants to keep their lists organized. The best part about it is that you can use it in three different ways - like a simple organizer, a scheduler, or a report creator. You can create the most basic outline, or you can create something that looks more like the kind of outlines that you use at work. The program is free, so you can try it out without any worry about the price tag.

"It's obviously a very low level," said Rafi Ron, a professor of public administration at the University of Maryland and co-author of the poll. Ron said a reason might be the contentious nature of Trump's campaign since he launched his presidential bid. Ron said it's the latest wave of news this year that Trump said the election was rigged.
